Standiford, Executive Secretary, Tells of Efforts of Business Men.

SEES HUGE CROWD Session Will Bring Largest Attendance in History of District, He Says.

Predicting that civic pride will cause Washington business men to show a solid front next June when the Shrine meet here during the largest convention ever held in this city, Harry Standiford, executive secretary of the Almas Temple 1923 Shrine Committee, in an address yesterday said many local men are neglecting their private interests in order to make the convention a success.

"They are doing it for love of the community and are doing it unselfishly," Standiford declared.

"The average Washingtonian who comprehends what this event means, not only to his city but to America, is moved by a broader spirit than may at first blush be evident," he said.

CARS REROUTED ON NINTH STREET

Changes Ordered by Public Utilities Board Will Take Effect Today.

Changes in the routing of Ninth street cars of the Washington Railway and Electric Company will be in effect today, on orders from the Public Utilities Commission, as follows:

Southbound: Cars now bound from Takoma Park to Congress Heights, Forest Glen, the Wharves, and Brightwood to Anacostia will stop at Seventh and B streets northwest, and return over the same route. Soldiers' Home cars will continue to the Wharves. Cars to Anacostia and Congress Heights will start from Eleventh street and Florida avenue northwest.

Northbound: Cars now running from Congress Heights to Brightwood and Anacostia to Takoma Park will go to Eleventh street and Florida avenue and return. The line from the Wharves to Forest Glen will not operate. Cars from the Wharves will continue to go to the Soldiers' Home. Cars will run from Seventh and B streets northwest to Brightwood, Forest Glen and Takoma Park.

The changes eliminate through traffic and make transfers necessary unless the passenger is coming into the business section from either end of the present system.

RED CROSS BEGINS ROLL CALL NOV. 11

Organization Will Spend More Than $3,000,000 in Soldier Service.

Extensive preparations for the annual Red Cross Roll Call are being made by John H. Clapp, chairman of the Roll Call for the District of Columbia Chapter, American Red Cross. The Roll Call will begin on Armistice day, November 11, and continue until the end of November. Chairman Clapp announced the personnel of his committee last night as follows:

Commissioners: Cuno Rudolph, James F. Oyster, and Col. Charles Keller, John B. Larnier, John Poole, A. E. Betz, William Knowles Cooper, Brig. Gen. George Richards, Rudolph Jones, Dr. Ralph M. Jenkins, chairman of the District Chapter; Rt. Rev. C. T. Thomas, Rabbi Abraham Simon, Rev. Dr. James E. Freeman, Rev. Charles Wood, Theodore W. Noyes, Ira E. Bennett, Avery Marks, John E. Rice, Lowell Mellett, Isaac Gans, Frank S. Hight, Harry King, Roland S. Robbins, Thomas Bradfield, and Victor Deyher.

With the care of the former service men and their families regarded as a primary Red Cross responsibility, the national organization has set aside for the year ending June 30, 1923, a total of $3,000,000, an increase of $366,000 over the amount spent for soldier service last year. This total will be increased by nearly 3,000 chapters, engaging in service to veterans, by more than $5,000,000.

When the American Red Cross inaugurates its Roll Call there will be under treatment in government hospitals more than 25,000 veterans.

SAYS BABY BLUE HAS AN AGE LIMIT

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—Mothers who "doll up" like their daughters were hit in an attack on fashions here today by Frank A. Parsons, speaking before the school of domestic arts and sciences. "Baby blue has an age limit," he declared.

A list of do's and don'ts included: "Don't gather your clothes up in a hump on your hip."

"Don't wind girldes around your knees. God gave you a waistline. But he knew better than to throw it so far down."

"Don't wear furs in the summer."

"Don't ask yourself 'How does it look?' Ask yourself where you are going when you get it on."

THIEF SNATCHES $52 FROM WOMAN

Miss Irene Staphis, 907 I street northwest, reported that a white man snatched $52 in bills from her hand, while she was standing in the doorway of her home yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Eulalie Chamberlain, 1839 I street northwest, reported to police that a black leather handbag containing $115 in bills and a $10,000 War Risk Insurance certificate was stolen from her while she was in a downtown store yesterday.

The theft of a roccoon fur automobile coat valued at $225, from a new case, was reported to police yesterday by the manager of a large department store.

3-YEAR-OLD GIRL KIDNAPED; MOTHER BLAMES HUSBAND

Taken from Family Car Near Market; Parents Estranged.

While sitting in a limousine parked on Louisiana avenue near Ninth street northwest, 3-year-old Marjorie Lamberton, of Akron, Ohio, was abducted yesterday afternoon.

The child was brought to this city several days ago by her mother, who is reported to be estranged from her husband, Charles G. Lamberton, an official of the Akron Rubber Company, when she came East to visit her sister, Mrs. Harry Parker, of Beltsville, Md.

Mrs. Lamberton told the police that she and the child had been shadowed by a private detective, but that she believed that the child had been abducted by her husband.

After an investigation by police it was believed the wife's assertions regarding the disappearance of the child were correct and requests for the apprehension of the man were sent to the Maryland State police and the Baltimore city police.

Several days ago, according to the mother, a mysterious stranger was seen in the vicinity of Mrs. Parker's home in Beltsville. She added that she was certain that as soon as she and her sister left the automobile to make some purchases in Center Market her husband took the child.

at 2:30 on the morning of September 15.

Mrs. Hall admitted the woman seen by Phillips was herself, but said she was accompanied by her eccentric brother, Willie, after she had gone to the church in search of her husband. Phillips declared the woman was alone.

If Mrs. Gibson's story that she saw Mrs. Hall weeping over the murdered bodies of her husband and Mrs. Mills at 1 o'clock on the morning of September 15 is true, the interval of time between that when the murder was committed, which Mrs. Gibson places at about 9:40 and the time Mrs. Hall was seen returning to her home by the night watchman would be accounted for in the minds of many.

"The Hall-Mills murder case has reached a point now where it looks to me very much as if it never would be solved," declared Timothy N. Pfeiffer, attorney for the Hall-Stevens family.

This is in direct opposition to the optimism shown by Mott, who stated that although the case was complex and difficult, it was "not a mystery."

Authorities here indicated a special session of the Somerset county grand jury will be held at Somerville Monday and indictments will be handed down which will cause the immediate arrest of a man and woman.

"I do not think reporters who have talked to Mrs. Gibson believe her story as it stands," said Pfeiffer today when asked his opinion of Mrs. Gibson's testimony.

"I feel," he added, "that the mystery is now just about unsolvable."

Pfeiffer said he was continuing an independent investigation. "But we have found nothing of sufficient value to place in the hands of the prosecutor," he said.

Gus Buchholz Is Honored by Signed Portrait of Former Premier.

One of the last official acts of Prime Minister Lloyd George was to send a signed photograph of himself to Gus Buchholz, the well-known Washington restaurateur. One has just received the picture of the great Welsh premier of England, together with a letter dated the 19th, the date of Lloyd George's resignation.

The photograph is to occupy a prominent place in the large Buchholz collection of signed pictures of prominent people of recent years which adorns the walls of the Occidental restaurant. Just what position the portrait will be given has not yet been decided. It has been suggested that it be placed in juxtaposition with the picture of President Wilson, with whom Lloyd George was in close touch during the Peace Conference. Or, again it may be grouped with the numerous photographs of British diplomats, generals and statesmen included in the collection.

Judging from the date of the Lloyd George letter addressed to Buchholz, it is quite possible that the last act of Britain's wartime and reconstruction premier is to send this picture as an act of courtesy and friendship to a citizen of the United States.

ALUMNI RESPOND TO APPEAL OF G. U.

Organizations in Big Cities Take Steps to Aid Endowment Fund.

With plans for raising Washington's quota of the $5,000,000 endowment for Georgetown University partially under way, the executive committee of the Georgetown Endowment Association is taking steps to organize branches of alumni in every big city.

The first cities to respond to the appeal of the university are Springfield, Mass.; Boston, New York, Philadelphia, St. Paul, Indianapolis, Mobile, Ala.; San Francisco, Denver, Hartford, and New Haven. In each of these centers the Georgetown alumni have organizations and reports received from them are encouraging.

Immediate steps will be taken to get the work started in Chicago, New Orleans, Louisville, Cincinnati, and Baltimore, all of them large Catholic centers. Dr. Conde B. Pallen, national chairman, declared. The next cities on the list where local committees are to be formed are Wilmington, Del.; Portland, Me.; Detroit, St. Louis, Kansas City, Mo.; Omaha, Atlantic City, Newark, N. J.; Albany, N. Y.; Buffalo, Brooklyn, Cleveland, Youngstown, Ohio; Dayton, Oklahoma City, Portland, Ore.; Pittsburgh, Erie, Pa.; Scranton, Pa.; Providence, Richmond, Norfolk, Seattle, Spokane, Wash.; Tacoma, Wash.; Wheeling, W. Va.; and Milwaukee.

Plans for the proposed new Foreign Service School building are to be submitted to the next meeting of the executive committee by Rev. W. Coleman Nevils, S. J., regent of the school.
